It has been observed that a comprehensive database of disaster management related inventory is very essential for an organized response in case of a disaster. More often than not lack of proper and adequate information has hampered swift and calibrated response resulting in delay which becomes critical in such eventualities. Main purpose and priority of initiative is to prepare a database of such resources from village to district level. Disaster Alert and Resource Management Application of Technology ("DARMAT") is an effort in that direction. The idea is to prevent and to mitigate the impact of natural & manmade disasters through raising awareness and building upon local coping mechanisms and knowledge. This helps to create disaster resilience and less vulnerable community, equipped with the necessary set of skills which are required to face disasters and to come over the aftermath of the same.

This is a GIS & web based system with interactive Decision support system (DSS) in the form of Geo-Spatial Information. It is enabled by Internet Gateway to access The geo spatial data. It is enabled with facility to query, identify and publish the useful information for disaster management. User can access as well as able to make query based on various needs of departments.

This system maintains the process, store, distribute and improve the utilization of geo-spatial data for decision makers, responders & other stake holders. This programme is web enabled with centralized inventory of resources established to minimize response time in any emergencies & also useful to develop mechanism to facilitate the inter disciplinary approach, involving mitigation preparedness and response functions developed at the administrative level.
